

Non-metropolitan local official consultation process

Comment from John Kunik
Copper River Residents Against Bureaucracy (CRRAB)
907-822-5515

via telephone to Eric Taylor 2/10/2004

Mr Kunik was concerned about the consultation process extended to community associations and other groups.

I explained the process to him and the distinction between metropolitan and non-metropolitan local officials and the specific language recognizing city and borough officials.

He thanked me for the explanation. He expressed that he was against anyone not elected trying to represent his views on the local level, citing in particular the Copper River Economic Development Association.